During the 2009-2010 fiscal year everyone was impacted by the bad economic crisis the country is suffering. There has continued to be soaring job losses, home foreclosures, and family stresses that have not been seen in years.

It is times like these that put a stress on many families, but also cause stress in businesses. The changing times we are going through has seen a marked increase in the requests for food as well as the makeup of those calling. Over 75% of those calling now are recently unemployed, or have seen their hours cut back at work so that they are not able to meet all their expenses.

One of the fallouts of a sluggish economy is lower giving from supporters. As dividends and stock growth reduce so does giving. This has been the case for the last year plus, and with increased demand for services it has put a strain on our financial resources.

During the 2009-2010 fiscal year, the Foundation found new volunteer support and kept almost all its ongoing volunteer support. Without the great volunteers we have none of the work we do would get accomplished. So we would be amiss not to give a great big THANK YOU to all who volunteered.

Because of the energy of these volunteers the Foundation gave out over 20,000 food boxes that fed a family of four for about a week. There were over 90,000 individuals helped and over 1,000,000 meals delivered. What a great job our volunteers did!

2010 Highlights

Our Mission Statement is simple: FEED THE HUNGRY FOUNDATION, INC. is a faith based inter-denominational non-profit corporation, and its Statement of Purpose is as follows:

“FEED THE HUNGRY FOUNDATION was created and operates for the purpose of providing and distributing food and other services to all who suffer the distresses of hunger.

The Foundation is a reflection of the compassion and love of God for all humankind, especially for the least, the last, and the lost. The compassion and the love of God is its motivation and its empowerment.”

Volunteers helped pack 20,104 food boxes. Other volunteers delivered these boxes. They also held food drives that added to the food Publix customers gave through the Food For Sharing program they run each year. But it was not all work. It was great to see so many people support the Foundation at the Dan Reeves, Feed the Hungry Foundation Golf Classic at Horseshoe Bend Country Club in October.
